HEALTH CARE COMPLETES SALE AND LOOKS AT OPPORTUNITIES IN CHINA

Australian private hospital operator Healthe Care Australia Pty Limited (“Healthe Care”) today announced the successful completion of Luye Medical Group Co. (“Luye Medical”) acquiring the group.

Chief Executive Officer of Healthe Care, Steve Atkins said he was excited about the opportunities available to Healthe Care under the new ownership of Luye Medical including the backing of Healthe Care’s Australian growth aspirations and the groups plans to expand into the Chinese Health Care sector.

“Our expertise in running some of Australia’s best private hospitals is now combined with the financial backing of Luye Medical and its strong service presence across Asia.

“Both companies are ideally placed to benefit from the Free Trade Agreement and we are already exploring collaboration of knowledge, experience and expatriate opportunities.

“Having the backing of a major international organisation also secures future funding for new acquisitions plus reinvestment into our existing hospitals, services, people and the local communities we serve,” Steve Atkins said.

Luye Group Chairman Liu Dian Bo said rarely did a portfolio of private hospitals of such calibre become available, and Luye Medical was committed to delivering first class health services.

“Patient care and outcomes are at the heart of what we do and I see our role as enhancing and improving that experience for our patients. We have the capital and commitment to fund expansion of Healthe Care’s hospitals to enable it to continue to bolster its position as one of the leading healthcare services companies in the country. An investment in Healthe Care also allows Luye Medical to capitalise on the company’s proven systems and operating standards. I strongly believe that Healthe Care will provide us with a platform upon which we can build a world class and highly successful healthcare services business not only in Australia and China, but also in many other countries of Asia where we see development opportunities exist,” Liu Dian Bo said.

Healthe Care has also recently invested in its senior executive ranks with the hiring of experienced healthcare professionals Peter Kahn, Greg Proctor and Jenny Patton.
